CIVIL LAW - Medical Professional Liability - Back Pain
- MRI - Petition to Proceed In Forma Pauperis - Preliminary Objections - 192S(b) Statement - Leave to Seek Counsel - Certificate of Merit - Sovereign Immunity Act

1. The court may revoke an In Forma Pauperis status if an action is frivolous pursuant to Pa.R.C.P. 240(j).

2. A party seeking to file a claim for medical professional liability must produce a certificate of merit, because a juror would be unable to determine medical negligence without the testimony from an expert and if the party files a motion requesting the court to provide them with a medical expert, the court will likely deem that they do not possess the requisite certificate of merit and dismiss the action.

3. If a party brings an action against an agency of the Commonwealth, the service of process must not only be effectuated on the Commonwealth agency but also the office of the Attorney General and failure to do so deprives the court of jurisdiction.

OPINION

Saylor, P.J.

The background of this matter is as follows:

On July 17, 2018, Robert Desheids, a previous inmate at the State Correctional Institute,¹ filed a pro se Medical Professional Liability Action alleging that Defendants failed to properly treat him for back pain and back spasms. Plaintiff further alleged the Corrections Health Care Administrator at the State Correctional Facility prevented him from getting an MRI. Plaintiff simultaneously filed a Petition to Proceed In Forma Pauperis. On July 23, 2018, this Court granted Plaintiff's Petition to proceed In Forma Pauperis. On August 20, 2018, Karen Merritt-Scully filed Preliminary Objections to Plaintiff's Complaint. Defendant Merritt-Scully further filed a Praecipe for Argument. In September 2018, both Defendants filed a Notice of Intention to Enter Judgment of Non Pros.

Defendants' Preliminary Objections were on briefs only, due November 14, 2018. The Preliminary Objections were subsequently made moot upon Defendants' Petition to Revoke Plaintiff's In Forma Pauperis Status filed September 20, 2018. On December 11, 2018, this Court revoked Plaintiff's In Forma Pauperis Status as being frivolous. Plaintiff appealed this decision on January 16, 2019, as to which this Court was made aware on February 26, 2019. This Court filed an Order for Plaintiff to file his 1925(b) Statement of Errors Complained of on Appeal. On April 9, 2019, Plaintiff requested this Court to Stay the proceedings and hold litigation in abeyance upon release of prison in order to seek the guidance from an attorney. This Court granted Plaintiff's request, giving him until July 1, 2019, to obtain counsel. To date, this Court has not received any notice of representation from Plaintiff.

This opinion now addresses the Plaintiffs' statement of matters complained of on appeal pursuant to Pa.R.A.P. 1925(b). First, Plaintiff asserts that this Court erred by dismissing his complaint for filing "A Motion Requesting the Court To Provide Him With A Medical expert Examination" and not as an additional certificate of merit. It is noteworthy that this Court did not dismiss Plaintiff's Complaint, but rather revoked his In Forma Pauperis Status for the reason that, under Pa.R.C.P. No. 240(j), the action is frivolous. Prior, on July 17, 2018, Plaintiff had filed a certificate of merit stating "an appropriate licensed professional has supplied a written statement to [Plaintiff] that there is a basis to conclude ... the care ... fell outside ... professional standards ... " However, on October 22, 2018, Plaintiff filed the aforesaid Motion Requesting the Court to Provide him with a Medical Expert Examination. Thus, it is clear that

NORTHUMBERLAND LEGAL JOURNAL

PHYSICIAN ASSISTANT BRIAN R. DAVIS,
CORRECTIONS HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATOR:
KAREN MERRITT SCULLY

the certificate of merit Plaintiff relied upon when filing his complaint was not based upon the existence of any expert report, and none has ever been provided.

Plaintiff further asserts that this Court erred in dismissal of Plaintiff's complaint when it cited McCool v. Department of Corrections, 984 A.2d 565 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2009), as it is distinguishable to Plaintiff's issue and facts. Plaintiff fails to provide the Court with any reasoning on how his case is distinguishable from McCool. In McCool v. Department of Corrections, an inmate at the State Correctional Institution at Forest brought a medical malpractice action against the Department of Corrections asserting negligent medical care. Id. Although there were numerous reasons why his complaint was dismissed, one of those reasons was because the plaintiff failed to file certificates of merit claiming that "expert testimony would not be necessary to prosecute his claims of professional malpractice." Id. at 567. The Commonwealth Court held that, "an ordinary layperson would be incapable of deciding whether [defendant] had acted negligently without hearing from experts about McCool's conditions." Id. at 571. As it applies here, without a proper written statement from a licensed medical professional, this Court and a reasonable jury would be unable to draw reasonable inferences as to how the Defendants acted in a negligent manner. Plaintiff has failed to provide this Court with a legitimate certificate of merit which would allow him to proceed with his medical malpractice lawsuit.

Third, Plaintiff asserts this Court erred in dismissal of his complaint when the Court alleges that Plaintiff was to serve the Attorney General with his Complaint pursuant to 42 Pa.C.S.A. § 8523(b). Plaintiff claims that he did not sue the Commonwealth, and that service was rightfully made by the sheriff. Plaintiff fails to understand that, pursuant

PHYSICIAN ASSISTANT BRIAN R. DAVIS,

to 42 Pa.C.S. § 8523 and Pa.R.C.P. No. 422, he is required to serve the Attorney General in this type of matter. It is clear that, as in inmate, Plaintiff was housed at a Department of Corrections facility. The Commonwealth Defendant, Karen Merritt-Scully, is the Corrections Health Care Administrator at the State Correctional Facility in which Plaintiff was housed. Since Defendant is an agency of the Commonwealth, the Sovereign Immunity Act provides that “[s]ervice of process in the case of an action against the Commonwealth shall be made at the principal or local office of the Commonwealth agency that is being sued and at the office of the Attorney General.” 42 Pa.C.S.A. §8523(b). Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 422(a) further provides that “[s]ervice of original process upon the Commonwealth or an officer of the Commonwealth, or a department, board, commission or instrumentality of the Commonwealth, or a member thereof, shall be made at the office of the defendant and the office of the attorney general by handing a copy to the person in charge thereof.” Pa.R.C.P.422(a).

Here, Plaintiff served his Complaint on the Pennsylvania’s Department of Corrections, but failed to serve his Complaint on the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General. This omission deprived the court of jurisdiction over Defendant Merritt-Scully. Reaves v. Knauer, 979 A.2d 404 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2009).

This appeal should be dismissed as Plaintiff has failed to properly serve the Attorney General with his Complaint and has failed to provide this Court with appropriate certificate of merits in order to proceed with his medical malpractice lawsuit, even though he was given additional time to obtain counsel after his release.
