Davis v. West Vincent Township Zoning Hearing Board et al.

Land use appeal – Intervention

1. Section 1004-A of the Municipalities Planning Code provides that within the 30 days first following the filing of a land use appeal, if the appeal is from a board or agency of a municipality, the municipality and any owner or tenant of property directly involved in the action appealed from may intervene as of course by filing a notice of intervention, accompanied by proof of service of the same, upon each appellant or each appellant's counsel of record. All other intervention shall be governed by the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure.
2. Where a party does not qualify to intervene by the filing of a notice of intervention, and has not petitioned to intervene pursuant to the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure, the notice of intervention filed becomes a nullity and must be stricken.
3. Upon petition to strike off notice of intervention and a motion to make rule absolute, the Court Held that the petition was granted and the notice of intervention was stricken. In addition, upon consideration of the appellant's land use appeal, the Court Held that the appeal was granted and the decision of the zoning hearing board was vacated.

ORDER

AND NOW, this 26th day of December, 2009, upon consideration of petition to strike off notice of intervention and the motion to make rule absolute and in the absence of any response thereto, it is hereby ORDERED that petition is GRANTED and the notice of intervention filed by Maria Holderness on June 12, 2009 is hereby STRICKEN.¹

AND FURTHER, upon consideration of appellant's land use appeal, it is hereby ORDERED that the appeal is GRANTED and the decision of the Zoning Hearing Board of West Vincent Township is hereby VACATED.²

BY THE COURT:

/s/ Robert J. Shenkin, J.

¹“Within the 30 days first following the filing of a land use appeal, if the appeal is from a board or agency of a municipality, the municipality and any owner or tenant of property directly involved in the action appealed from may intervene as of course by filing a notice of intervention, accompanied by proof of service of the same, upon each appellant or each appellant's counsel of record. All other intervention shall be governed by the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure.” Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code, §1004-A, 53 P.S. § 11004-A. “This statutory provision identifies those parties who may intervene as of right by merely filing a notice of intervention with a trial court, only including a municipality, owner or tenant of a property involved in the action. Thus, by the plain statutory terms, any other party must comply with the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure relating to intervention and simply filing a notice of intervention under Section 1004-A of the MPC is not sufficient.” McLoughlin v. Zoning Hearing Board of Newtown Township, 953 A.2d 855, 857 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2008). As Maria Holderness does not qualify to intervene by the filing of a notice of intervention (and has not petitioned to intervene pursuant to the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure), the notice of intervention filed by Maria Holderness is a nullity and must be stricken. The filing of the notice of intervention does not give Maria Holderness any standing of any nature whatsoever in this case.

² Appellee (ZHB) lacked jurisdiction to hear the appeal of Maria Holderness filed May 15, 2008. Even if we were to have considered the decision on its merits, we would have sustained the appeal and reversed the decision as it was premised upon the finding that the use of the subject property “is not a ‘legal non-conforming’ use when that issue was not before the ZHB. See Holderness v West Vincent Township Zoning Hearing Board and Joseph W. Davis, Inc., in the Court of Common Pleas of Chester County at No. 09-04676.

Holderness v. West Vincent Township Zoning Hearing Board et al.

Land use appeal – Timeliness of appeal – Nonconforming use – Function of zoning hearing board

1. In considering whether an appeal from a decision of a zoning officer to a zoning hearing board is timely, a Court must begin with the operative statute. Section 914.1(a) of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code provides no person shall be allowed to file any proceeding with the board later than 30 days after an application for development, preliminary or final, has been approved by an appropriate municipal officer, agency or body if such proceeding is designed to secure reversal or to limit the approval in any manner unless such person alleges and proves that he had no notice, knowledge, or reason to believe that such approval had been given.
2. Pennsylvania law recognizes that the owner of property to which a lawful nonconforming use has attached enjoys a vested property right.
3. Pennsylvania law recognizes that the right to expand a nonconforming use to provide for the natural expansion and accommodation of increased trade is a constitutional right protected by the due process clause.
4. A zoning hearing board is created by the legislature and acts in a quasi-judicial capacity. As such, it receives evidence and takes official actions and performs fact-finding and deliberative functions in a manner similar to a court.
5. As a quasi-judicial body, a zoning hearing board must afford due process of law just as a court must do. Due process requires adherence to legal standards and frequently precludes a compromise result, even when the result is based upon common sense rather than strict application of the applicable legal principles.
6. Appellant made inquiry on February 28, 2008, to the township zoning officer, who in turn responded with a decision on March 31, 2008. On April 1, 2008, appellant sought clarification of the zoning officer's letter of March 31, 2008. The zoning officer responded to the clarification request on April 16, 2008. Thereafter, appellant filed a notice of appeal on May 15, 2008. Following consideration of the land use appeal and the intervenor's response, the Court Held that the appeal was denied. The Court concluded that the zoning hearing board lacked jurisdiction to hear the appeal filed May 15, 2008, finding that the appeal was from a decision of the zoning officer, not from a subsequent explanation of that decision.

ORDER

AND NOW, this 26th day of December, 2009, upon consideration of appellant's land use appeal and intervenor's response thereto, it is hereby ORDERED that the appeal is DENIED.¹

BY THE COURT:

/s/ Robert J. Shenkin, J.

¹Appellee, West Vincent Township Zoning Hearing Board (ZHB), lacked jurisdiction to hear the appeal of Maria Holderness (Holderness) filed May 15, 2008. The appeal was from a decision of the Zoning Officer, not from a subsequent explanation of that decision. To the extent, if any, that there was any recent decision by the Zoning Officer in this matter (a dubious proposition), that decision occurred on March 31, 2008, when the Zoning Officer responded to an inquiry from Maria Holderness made in response to a letter dated February 28, 2008. On April 1, 2008, Ms. Holderness acknowledged receipt of the letter dated March 31, 2008, and requested "clarification" of that letter. By letter dated April 16, 2008, the Zoning Officer responded to the April 1, 2008, email from Maria Holderness. That response was well within the time for a timely filing of an appeal from the March 31, 2008, decision. The Zoning Officer's letter dated April 16, 2008, is clearly not a new decision but is, at most, an explanation of the bases for the decision of March 31, 2008. Holderness contests the characterization of the April 16, 2008, letter as a clarification of the previous decision but her own inquiry by email dated April 1, 2008, stated that Holderness “wanted to get some clarification of some of the points in your letter.” (emphasis added) A review of the email of April 1, 2008, and the Zoning Officer’s response dated April 16, 2008, (which acknowledged the email of April 1, 2008, and a discussion at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors on April 7, 2008) makes clear that Holderness was not requesting a new decision but, rather, only an explanation of the prior decision. In her notice of appeal from the decision of the ZHB, Holderness raises four (4) issues: above ground fuel tanks; status of use of Davis property as legal non-conforming; use of front setback area for parking and storage; and screening. From the Zoning Officer’s letter dated March 31, 2008, it is clear that the inquiry of February 28, 2008, and the March 31, 2008, decision of the Zoning Officer addressed all of these issues. In the March 31, 2008, decision of the Zoning Officer, it is clearly stated that Holderness was challenging the status of the use of the property as a legal, non-conforming use and the Zoning Officer stated that such use was “well established”. The March 31, 2008, letter also clearly addresses the issues of above ground fuel tanks (“Use of [above-ground storage tanks] is a lawful, nonconforming use”), use of front setback area (“I did not find any [unregistered or uninspected] vehicles stored within any required yard setbacks.”) and screening (“I am not aware of any activity undertaken by the Davis’s that would trigger an obligation on their part to submit [a Landscaping and Screening] plan” and “The ‘access’ is screened along the Davis’s property line.”). Merely repeating the same decision in a subsequent letter does not constitute a new decision. Nothing raised in the present Holderness appeal was not clearly set forth in the Zoning Officer’s decision of March 31, 2008, with the possible exception of a failure of the ZHB to address screening of a “new area” of use which, obviously could not have been known prior to the ZHB’s decision itself. In view of our decision in the case of Joseph W. Davis, Inc. v Zoning Hearing Board of the Township of West Vincent at number 09-04677 vacating the ZHB’s decision, any need for supplementation by the ZHB of that decision to address screening is moot. We appreciate the ZHB’s wish to not deprive a person of a right to review based on “her failure to take action while she was trying to resolve a neighborhood dispute.” But even if the record supported that finding as to the reason for the failure to have taken a timely appeal — a somewhat dubious proposition given the long-running nature and strongly held positions with respect to this dispute — that reason would not be sufficient to overcome a clear statutory mandate. Neither the ZHB nor this court have the power to extend legislatively determined mandates. In the case of Moy v. Zoning Hearing Board of Municipality of Monroeville, 912 A.2d 373 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2006), a case involving an appeal of a decision of a Zoning Officer, the Commonwealth Court stated, “In considering whether [an] appeal [to the Zoning Hearing Board] was timely, we begin with the operative statute. Section 914.1(a) of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code (MPC), Act of July 31, 1968, P.L. 805, as amended, added by the Act of Dec. 21, 1988, P.L. 1328, 53 P.S. § 10914.1(a), provides in relevant part: (a) No person shall be allowed to file any proceeding with the board later than 30 days after an application for development, pre- liminary or final, has been approved by an appropriate municipal officer, agency or body if such proceeding is designed to secure reversal or to limit the approval in any manner unless such person alleges and proves that he had no notice, knowledge, or reason to believe that such approval had been given.... 53 P.S. § 10914.1(a) (emphasis added).” Id at 377. (In Moy, the appeal was found timely as the appellant therein had no knowledge of the decision at the time that it was made, an issue not applicable to the present case.) Therefore, the appeal by Holderness to the ZHB was not timely and should not have been considered by the ZHB. Even if we were to consider the decision of the ZHB on the merits, the result could be no different. Assuming, arguendo, that the letter from the Zoning Officer dated April 16, 2008, constitutes a new decision from which an appeal could have been taken, we can conceive of no argument that such appeal could be from anything other than the decision or decisions of the Zoning Officer set forth in that April 16, 2008, letter. It is clear that the April 16, 2008, letter does not set forth any decision by the Zoning Officer that the use of the Davis property is a legal, non-conforming use. Therefore, any appeal from the purported decision of April 16, 2008, could not have raised that issue before the ZHB. The April 16, 2008, letter discusses the right to expand a legal, non-conforming, use, but does not even repeat what was said in the March 31, 2008, letter, “It is well established that the commercial use of the Davis property was recognized by the Township as a lawful, nonconforming use in the late-1980’s and the early 1990’s.” Holderness cannot credibly maintain that she was unaware of that decision by the Zoning Officer by no later than April 1, 2008. Therefore, the issue of whether or not the commercial use of the Davis property is a legal non-conforming use was not before the ZHB based upon the Holderness appeal filed May 15, 2008. Without that issue being before the ZHB, the ZHB could not legally find that “The use is not a ‘legal non-conforming’ use in the normal sense of the words.” This finding is set forth in two undated documents from the ZHB supplementing its notice of March 25, 2009, (mistakenly dated February 2, 2009.) The remainder of the decision flows from that finding. The decision of the ZHB that the use of the property could not expand as it has from its use in 1992 was based upon the finding that the use is not a legal, non-conforming, use and, therefore, gave no consideration to the issues raised by the expansion of a legal, non-conforming, use, which expansion has protections of constitutional dimensions. Pennsylvania law recognizes that the owner of property to which a lawful nonconforming use has attached enjoys a vested property right. See Richards v. Borough of Coudersport Zoning Hearing Board, 979 A.2d 957 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2009) citing Pappas v. Zoning Board of Adjustment, 527 Pa. 149, 152, 589 A.2d 675, 676 (1991). Pennsylvania law also “recognizes that ‘[t]he right to expand a nonconforming use to provide for the natural expansion and accommodation of increased trade “is a constitutional right protected by the due process clause.” ’ Jenkintown Towing Service v. Zoning Hearing Board of Upper Moreland Township, 67 Pa.Cmwlt. 183, 446 A.2d 716, 718 (1982) (quoting Silver v. Zoning Board of Adjustment, 435 Pa. 99, 102, 255 A.2d 506, 507 (1969)).” Richards, supra, at 963. Therefore, any determinations by the ZHB in this case of the use of the Davis property based on considerations inconsistent with the status of the use of the property as a legally existing, non-conforming, use cannot be sustained. We express no opinion as to what restrictions could be validly imposed upon expansion of the use of the Davis property based upon its status as a valid, legal, non-conforming, use nor whether or not that status can be legally challenged (although it does appear that it would be difficult for the Township to avoid being estopped from challenging what appear to be its own prior decisions of long-standing) nor on what the result might be with regard to use of the property if its status as a valid, legal, non-conforming, use were validly and successfully challenged. Our decision is limited to the finding that the status of the property as a valid, legal, non-conforming, use was not properly before the ZHB at this time and, therefore, the decision that “the use [of the property] is not a ‘legal non-conforming’ use” and any part of the decision flowing from that finding (which is the entire decision) cannot be sustained. We believe we understand the motivation of the ZHB in doing “its best to resolve” what was, for the ZHB, “a difficult case.” In so doing, however, the ZHB appears to have failed to adhere to the strict letter (or even spirit) of the law in an attempt to mediate the dispute and fashion a compromise that it hoped would be acceptable to all parties. While this type of effort is hardly unknown to zoning hearing boards and other local agencies generally — and is frequently successful when unappealed from — it cannot withstand the strict scrutiny of judicial review. A zoning hearing board is created by the legislature and acts in a quasi-judicial capacity. See In Appeal of Emmanuel Baptist Church, 26 Pa.Cmwlth. 427, 364 A.2d 536 (1976). As such it receives evidence and takes official actions and performs “fact-finding and deliberative functions in a manner similar to a court.” Kennedy v. Upper Milford Township Zoning Hearing Board, 575 Pa. 105, 131, 834 A.2d 1104, 1121 (2003). See also Society Hill Civic Association v. Philadelphia Board of License & Inspection Review, 905 A.2d 579, 584 (Pa.Cmwlth. 2006). As a quasi-judicial body, a zoning hearing board must afford due process of law just as this court must do. Due process requires adherence to legal standards and frequently precludes a compromise result, even when (or, perhaps, particularly when) the result is based upon common sense rather than strict application of the applicable legal principles. Sometimes strict adherence to legal principles compels a court (or a zoning hearing board or any other quasi-judicial body) to render a decision that, on balance, it might rather not render. But there are many times when neither a court nor a zoning hearing board may properly balance competing interests but, rather, is compelled to strictly apply “the law.” Enforcement of statutes of limitations and time limits for the filing of appeals and other legal proceedings often leads to what appears to be a harsh result. But, harsh or not, it is what the law compels and, in this case, the law compels the findings that the ZHB in this case did not have jurisdiction to hear this appeal at all and that it was not empowered by this appeal to make any finding whatsoever with regard to the status of the use of the Davis property as a legal, non-conforming use. Therefore, we have entered the above order.
