Requirements for Businesses Authorized to Continue In-Person Operations:

Health and Cleaning

- Provide masks for employees to wear at all times.
- Clean and disinfect the building frequently, especially high-touch areas.
- Make sure employees have access to soap and water, hand sanitizer, and disinfectant wipes.
- Tell employees they should notify their supervisor if they are sick and stay home.

Social Distancing

- Prevent large groups from entering or leaving the building at the same time.
- Limit the number of employees in common areas.
- Conduct meetings virtually. For in-person meetings, limit the number of employees to 10 and maintain a distance of six feet.
- Don't allow non-essential visitors.

If there is a COVID-19 exposure in your building

- Establish a plan for employee COVID-19 exposure, that includes building cleaning and notifying affected employees.

MEMO FROM BUTLER COUNTY FAMILY COURT JUDGES MAY 12, 2020

Dear Attorneys,

. We recognize that you may have many questions about how family court matters will proceed in the next weeks and months. Judge Streib and Judge Robinson have been meeting on a regular basis reviewing the needs of the court, litigants and attorneys. We are constantly considering the safety of litigants, attorneys and court staff while maintaining due process and access to the courts. We appreciate the patience and flexibility you have shown during these unusual times.

. Like you, we are anxious to resume all operations. While the Pennsylvania Supreme Court permitted counties to re-open the courts to the general public as of May 4, Butler County continues to follow the administrative order dated March 18, 2020 until further notice. Regardless, the Supreme Court was clear that when or if a county court resumes non-critical matters, it must be done in compliance with current safety standards, and the use of technology to reduce courthouse traffic was highly recommended. We are preparing protocols to help guide practice for the foreseeable future.

. We hope to send you these protocols within the next week. Please note that they will be subject to change as circumstances warrant. It is our hope to set clear expectations so that everyone feels as comfortable as possible. Until then, please continue to follow the protocols set forth in our earlier e-mail. Very truly yours,
Judge Streib and Judge Robinson
