

LACKAWANNA JURIST

JUDICIAL OPINION

CASE NAME AND NUMBER: Miller v. Miller, 2019 WL 1279915 (Lacka. Co. 2019)

DATE OF DECISION: March 20, 2019

JUDGE: Terrence R. Nealon

ATTORNEYS INVOLVED:

Gerald J. Butler, Esquire, Counsel for Plaintiff
Joseph Gardner Price, Esquire, Counsel for Defendant

SUMMARY OF OPINION:

Plaintiff sued his brother seeking an accounting and compensatory damages for breach of fiduciary duty in connection with their partnership involving the purchase, maintenance, and sale of boats in Hawaii, and the brother filed preliminary objections asserting that personal jurisdiction did not exist under 42 Pa.C.S. §§ 5301(a) and 5322. When a defendant challenges personal jurisdiction, it bears the burden of supporting that objection with evidence, and the burden of proof does not shift to the plaintiff until defendant has submitted supporting affidavits or evidence. When an issue of fact is raised, the court must receive evidence on that issue and must permit the plaintiff to depose defendant regarding its activities within the Commonwealth. Since it was apparent that discovery needed to be conducted on the issue of the brother's contacts with Pennsylvania, including the submission and payment of invoices related to the boats' purchases, maintenance and sales, the parties were afforded 60 days within which to conduct such discovery and to thereafter file supplemental briefs in support of their respective positions.

JUDICIAL OPINION

CASE NAME AND NUMBER: Johnson v. Milewski Towing, 2019 WL 1302459 (Lacka. Co. 2019)

DATE OF DECISION: March 21, 2019

JUDGE: Terrence R. Nealon

ATTORNEYS INVOLVED:

Paul J. Walker, Esquire, Counsel for Plaintiffs
Michael J. Dolan, Esquire Counsel for Defendant

SUMMARY OF OPINION:

After a discovery sanctions order was entered by another judge barring the plaintiff "from offering evidence at the trial of this matter," defendant filed a motion for summary judgment. When considering a summary judgment motion, the failure of a non-moving party to adduce sufficient evidence on an issue essential to its case and on which it bears the burden of proof establishes the moving party's entitlement to judgment as a matter of law. To recover in a negligence action, the plaintiff must establish the existence of a duty, a breach of that duty, a causal connection between the breach and the resulting injury, and actual loss suffered by the plaintiff. Except in cases where the causal connection between defendant's negligence and plaintiff's harm is so obvious as to be within the common knowledge of the average juror, expert medical testimony is necessary to establish that causal nexus. As a result of the sanctions order and plaintiff's continuous failure to respond to his counsel's requests for information, defendant was found to be unable to adduce sufficient evidence to establish the elements of a negligence claim, as a result of which defendant was entitled to judgment in its favor. Thus, its motion for summary judgment was granted.
