OPINION

I. Statement of Facts

Plaintiffs Stanley Conord, Mary Ann Lott and William Novis are the owners of 93.5 acres of real property in Rush Township, Susquehanna County. (Plf. Amd. Cmp., ¶¶ 2-5.) Plaintiffs filed a complaint against defendants Appalachia Midstream Services, LLC, (AMS) and William Abel & Associates, Inc., (Abel) contending that defendants relied upon a forged easement agreement to begin construction of a natural gas pipeline on plaintiffs’ real property. (Plf. Amd. Cmp. ¶¶ 8-18.) In their amended complaint, plaintiffs contend AMS “began to cut down and destroy a mature forest consisting of valuable hard and soft woods and otherwise permanently destroyed the natural beauty of the Property and its maturity and serenity and leaving it permanently scarred.” (Plf. Amd. Cmp. ¶ 18 (emphasis added).) Plaintiffs further alleged that real property had “extensive, permanent damage . . . and permanent scarring. . . .” and that AMS had destroyed “a mature forest.” (Plf. Amd. Cmp. ¶ 21, 29.) Plaintiffs seek both compensatory and punitive damages against defendants.

Defendant William Abel & Associates, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as Abel) is a corporate entity based in Lexington, Kentucky. (Plf. S.J. Mot. Ans., Ex. A.) Abel and Chesapeake Operating Systems, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as AMS) entered into a “master service agreement” in August 2009 whereby Abel agreed that its “employees, agents or representatives at all times shall be under the direct and sole supervision and control” of Abel. (Id., ¶ 4.0.)¹ While Abel had the ability to subcontract work under the agreement, Abel agreed that it would be “liable to [AMS] for all acts, omissions and defaults of subcontractors.” (Id., ¶ 11.2(b).)

Pursuant to this agreement, Abel began working for AMS in Susquehanna County in connection with obtaining right of way agreements from property owners for the construction of natural gas pipelines. (Id., Ex. B, at 26-27.)² Abel would be provided a map from AMS designating a proposed area for which AMS wanted Abel to obtain a pipeline easement. (Id. at 27.) The specific physical route was determined by AMS and the landmen hired by Abel. (Id.) All of the written documents and forms related to the creation of the easements were created by AMS, provided to Abel by AMS and then provided by Abel to the landmen. (Id. at 36-38.) If a landowner requested a condition not contained in the form easement, AMS also provided pre-approved language for common landowner requests that could be added to the standard easement agreement. (Id. at 38.)

Abel handled the administrative work necessary for the Susquehanna County easement assignment out of a corporate office in Owego, New York. (Id. at 50.) Abel had 5 or 6 workers performing clerical work that was required by AMS. (Id. at 51.) Abel also hired the 15 to 20 landmen who were in the field seeking to obtain easement agreements for AMS in Susquehanna County. (Id. at 43-44, 53.) The landmen were paid a daily rate as well as reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses. (Id. at 44.) The landmen would submit invoices to Abel for payment, Abel would pay the landmen, and then AMS would pay Abel. (Id. at 56, 65-66, 72.)

Abel contracted supervisors to oversee the efforts of the landmen. (Id. at 53.) Abel’s supervision structure was dictated by AMS:

[The landman and the supervisor] both worked for [Abel], but they worked for [AMS]. [AMS] had very close control of everything that went on and everything was structured by [AMS]. So the structure of the contractors – not who the contractors were, but the structure of the position to operate under was set by [AMS]. In other words, they would give [Abel] a list of contractor positions and the qualifications for those positions. And so you would have a field supervisor, you would have a lead right-of-way agent, a right-of-way agent, so forth and so forth. They had categories set up and the qualifications for those categories.

(Id. at 54-55.) Abel supervised the field supervisors who supervised the landmen. (Id. at 127.)

As part of this structure, Abel contracted with additional defendants Blue Ridge Land Services, Inc. and Chris Bentley (collectively referred to as Bentley) to perform landman services in Susquehanna County in connection with AMS’s attempts to acquire pipeline easements. (Id. at 61-63.) Bentley had worked as a landman for Abel in the past and “knew what to do and what not to do.” (Id.) After acquiring a signed easement agreement, Bentley would physically bring the signed easement to Abel’s office, and Abel would check Bentley’s paperwork, and, if everything was in order, the written documents were sent to AMS. (Id. at 85.)

Abel described Bentley as its contractor but not its employee:

So you definitely don’t want to have these people classified as an employee, so they’re contractors. And in order for them to be a contractor, you cannot give them any instruction whatsoever. You can’t require them to come in, you can’t require them to do anything. You just give them the job. In other words, like the guy that comes to put a roof on your house. You can’t tell him how many people he can have working. You can’t tell him what kind of vehicle he can drive. You can’t tell him when to show up, how long he works, or anything else. It’s the same way with the landman. He’s a contractor, and if you cross that line in telling him what to do, where to go, when to do it, then he’s no longer a contractor. . . .

(Id. at 140-41.)

Abel considered Bentley to be an independent contractor who was instructed to obtain easement agreements consistent with the pre-approved forms and language provided by AMS. (Id. at 141-42.)³ Bentley always received a 1099 for tax purposes consistent with his position as an independent contractor. (Id. at 153.) While Abel strove to maintain an independent contractor relationship between itself and its landmen, Abel conceded that it had never worked with a company like AMS that maintained such a high level of control over Abel and its landmen. (Id. at 143.)

Bentley began working with Abel in 2007. (Def. S.J. Br., Ex. C, at 26.) Abel then trained Bentley to perform the work as a landman. (Id. at 28-29.) In February 2009, Bentley was “laid off” by Abel as a result of a lack of work. (Id. at 31.) Abel then contacted Bentley to see if Bentley wanted to work in northeastern Pennsylvania as a landman. (Id. at 32.) Bentley worked for Abel from April 2009 until August 2013 in the northeastern Pennsylvania area working on natural gas pipeline easement acquisitions. (Id. at 33.)

At the direction of Abel, Bentley set up a corporation known as Blue Ridge Land Services, Inc. for “tax purposes.” (Id. 39-41.) Bentley was the only employee of Blue Ridge Land Services, Inc. (Id. at 42.) Bentley considered himself an independent contractor of Abel and he received a 1099 for tax purposes. (Id. at 49.) The compensation was paid to Bentley’s corporate entity, Blue Ridge Land Services, Inc. (Id. at 53.)

In terms of compensation, Bentley (through his corporate entity) had a contractual agreement that allowed Bentley to bill Abel for the following: (1) a day rate of pay; (2)

3 This exhibit is the deposition testimony of Chris Bentley, the sole shareholder and owner of Blue Ridge Land Services, Inc. For purposes of convenience, Chris Bentley and his corporate entity shall be collectively referred to as Bentley.

mileage reimbursement; (3) per diem for any lodging expenses; (4) per diem for any food expenses; and (5) postage expenses. (Id. at 61, 217.) Whenever Bentley received a raise or increase in compensation, Abel would require a new contractual agreement to be signed. (Id. at 62.) Bentley submitted invoices on a bi-weekly basis for payment. (Id. at 63.) Bentley was also required to maintain an agent log as part of his work for Abel. (Id. at 177.) Abel maintained an office in his home but would report to Abel’s office to turn in documents, discuss projects and obtain updates. (Id. at 207.) Bentley obtained his own laptop, printer and cellular phone. (Id. at 206-208.)

As to his work product, Bentley had to use approved form agreements. (Id. at 281.) Bentley also had authorization for certain pre-approved addendums that could be added to the pre-approved form easement agreement. (Id. at 280-81.) If Bentley sought to add an addendum that was not pre-approved, Bentley had to obtain approval from AMS. (Id. at 281-82.) In order to obtain this approval, Bentley would contact a field supervisor designated by Abel and the field supervisor would contact AMS. (Id. at 283.)

II. Discussion

a. Standard of Review

Summary judgment is appropriate “where the record clearly demonstrates that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” Summers v. Certainteed Corp., 997 A.2d 1152, 1159 (Pa. 2010) (citing Pa.R.C.P. No. 1035.2(1)). In reviewing a motion for summary judgment, the court must consider all facts (and any reasonable inferences deducible therefrom) in a “light most favorable to the non-moving party.” Id. Any doubts must be resolved in favor of the non-moving party and, for this reason, summary judgment is only proper where the record is “clear and free from all doubt.” Id. This is not to suggest that the non-moving party bears no burden; rather, the non-moving party must still “adduce sufficient evidence on an issue essential to his case and on which he bears the burden of proof such that a jury could return a verdict in his favor.” Burlington Coat Factory of Pennsylvania, LLC v. Grace Const. Mgmt. Co., LLC, 126 A.3d 1010, 1017-18 (Pa. Super. Ct. 2015). If a non-moving party fails to present such evidence demonstrating a question of material fact, then summary judgment will be granted to the moving party. Id.⁴

The Court Opinion will continue in the next issue.

4 An issue of material fact is in genuine dispute if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party. Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986).
