JUDICIAL OPINION*IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF FAYETTE COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA CRIMINAL DIVISION

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA :
v. :
CASEY SEPESY :
Defendant. : No. 2221 of 2025

OPINION

Linda R. Cordaro, J.

August 19, 2026

Before this Court is Defendant's Omnibus Pretrial ("OPT") Motion to suppress statements made by the Defendant. At the OPT hearing on July 15, 2026, this Court received the preliminary hearing transcript and body camera footage of Pennsylvania State Trooper Ally Wilson. Additionally, the Court heard testimony from Trooper Wilson and heard argument from the parties.

After consideration and for the following reasons, Defendant's Motion is DENIED.

SUMMARY

The following facts were established via the evidence submitted to this Court. On September 22, 2025, a female neighbor and her 13 year-old daughter were walking door-to-door in their neighborhood for a cookie fundraiser for the daughter's school. The pair knocked on the door of the Defendant. Upon the Defendant stepping into the doorway, his genitals were exposed, hanging out through the zipper of his khaki shorts. The pair handed the Defendant a fundraiser pamphlet, and as he looked through it, he moved around, drawing attention to his exposed genitals. The interaction lasted between one to two minutes. Upon leaving the porch, the neighbor contacted law enforcement. Trooper Wilson responded to the incident. She first spoke with the victims and then went over to the Defendant's house. The Defendant was on his front porch and went to the driveway to speak to Trooper Wilson. Trooper Wilson inquired whether the neighbors had been there. The Defendant initially denied this, but upon being reminded of the fundraising campaign, the Defendant recalled the interaction. The Defendant did not recall that his genitals were exposed during this interaction. Trooper Wilson inquired whether it was common for the Defendant to walk around with his genitals out, and she further explained to the Defendant that there was a possibility he would be charged with a crime.

DISCUSSION

The Defendant argues that the statements he made to Trooper Wilson must be suppressed because he was not given Miranda warnings. Further, the Defendant argues that even if there was not an investigative detention, he lacked sufficient mental capacity to make the statements.

For Miranda warnings to be necessary, there must be a custodial interrogation.

"The test for determining whether a suspect is being subjected to custodial interrogation so as to necessitate Miranda warnings is whether he is physically being deprived of his freedom in any significant way or is placed in a situation in which he reasonably believes that his freedom of action or movement is restricted by such interrogation.” Commonwealth v. Mannion, 725 A.2d 196,200 (Pa. Super. 1999) quoting Commonwealth v. Busch, 713 A.2d 97, 100 (Pa. Super. 1998).

Brief, non-coercive police questioning at the Defendant’s own home does not rise to a custodial interrogation. See Commonwealth v. Brodo, 262 A.2d 802 (Pa. Super. 1979). Here, the interaction between Trooper Wilson and the Defendant lasted for a mere five and a half minutes. The interaction consisted of Trooper Wilson reminding the Defendant of the interaction with the neighbors, which he had seemingly forgotten. The trooper relayed to the Defendant that the neighbors saw his exposed genitals. Further, nearly half of the interaction between the Defendant and Trooper Wilson simply involved obtaining contact information. Trooper Wilson was merely informing the Defendant of the incident, and her questions were not coercive. Additionally, the circumstances do not amount to the Defendant reasonably believing that his movement was restricted by the questioning. The Defendant was at his own home, and the interaction was relatively brief.

The Defendant further argues that his statements to Trooper Wilson must be suppressed because he lacked sufficient mental capacity to make the statements due to his intoxication. Merely drinking alcohol does not warrant suppression. Rather, the test rests on the Defendant’s mental capacity at the time the statements were made. See Commonwealth v. Milligan, 693 A.2d 1313, 1316 (Pa. Super. 1997). However, no evidence has been presented to this Court that suggests the Defendant had been drinking, much less that he was so intoxicated at the time that he lacked the requisite mental capacity. In the body camera footage offered to this Court, the Defendant does not show any obvious signs of intoxication, such as slurred speech. In fact, he was able to maintain a clear conversation with Trooper Wilson.

For these reasons, the Defendant’s motion is DENIED.

ORDER

AND NOW, this 19th of August, 2026, in consideration of Defendant’s Omnibus Pretrial Motion and for the reasons set forth in this Court’s opinion, it is hereby ORDERED that the Defendant’s Motion is DENIED.

The Commonwealth shall list this case for trial.
