OBITER DICTUM

From the ABA Journal Daily Newsletter: [1] A Texas judge has been suspended after being indicted on misdemeanor charges of official oppression stemming from a dispute with a delivery driver. The Texas State Commission on Judicial Conduct suspended Judge William Ross Mitchell of Uvalde County, Texas, without pay in a November 11, 2025 order. Judge Mitchell was accused in the indictment of subjecting the driver to unlawful “arrest, detention or seizure” while acting under the color of his office as a county judge. The incident happened in March, 2025 at the courthouse. According to the second amended complaint filed in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, the UPS driver, Tyler M. Cox, had permission to leave packages in the 1st floor hallway because of elevator maintenance. Despite his “lawful presence,” Mitchell “publicly humiliated him, shouting derogatory remarks and violently seizing his delivery dolly, scattering packages and committing assault.” When Cox offered to relocate the packages, Mitchell ordered a deputy to arrest and handcuff him, and the deputy obliged. Cox was handcuffed “excessively tightly,” causing injury per the amended complaint. He was detained for more than five minutes, during which Mitchell demanded that Cox tell him his name and seized his cell phone. Mitchell also defamed Cox when he told the Uvalde Leader-News that Cox called the judge “an a-hole”. Uvalde County refused to release surveillance video, controlled by Mitchell, following the incident. [2] Santa Claus came in the form of a drone over a South Carolina prison yard and dropped off a special gift to some inmates. But alas, a guard intercepted a care package that included steak, crab legs and marijuana. There was even some Old Bay seasoning and a couple of cartons of cigarettes. The drone dropped the package into the Lee Correctional Institution Prison in Bishopville, South Carolina. The drone was seized and prison officials are investigating. According to the prison spokesperson, “I’m guessing the inmates who were expecting the package are crabby.” Other News: Court errs by denying protection from abuse petition on basis that petitioner has failed to establish fear of defendant because she reconciled with him following past instances of abuse. Medina v. Green, 2025 PA Super 250 (Nov. 10, 2025).

PUBLISHING POLICIES:

- All legal notices must be pre-paid unless approved by publisher. An account past due more than 60 days or in excess of $500 is not eligible for a discretionary waiver of pre-payment until that account is paid in full.
- Publisher has the right to decline to publish any material.
- Publisher does not edit for content or substance and is not responsible for errors made by the advertiser.
- Price deviations in exceptional circumstances regarding individual notices are at the discretion of WCBA administrative staff in consultation with the legal journal editor and/or the Publisher’s authorized designee.
- Placement and categorization of items submitted for publication: A.) Items which may have legal ramifications, such as those having publication deadlines, or which may be required to be published by law, statute, rule or Court Order, are considered a “legal notice,” which must be paid in advance (unless pre-payment is waived by publisher) by the advertising party, and for which advertiser will receive an Affidavit. B.) Items of general information or relevance to the profession or Bar Association that are not required by law, statute, rule, or Court Order to be published may be inserted in the format selected by, and at the sole discretion of, the Publisher. These notices will not receive an Affidavit and are generally published at no charge but may be published as a paid display ad if advertiser chooses to do so. C.) Communications from the Court pertaining to the profession generally, as opposed to required publication notices, may be published at the discretion of Publisher as a “Notice to the Profession,” which will generally be deemed to be a public service at no charge.

Approved by the Washington County Bar Association Board of Directors.
